Mini Track: Privacy enhancing e-Government Solutions

Track Chair: Christian Breitenstrom, Fokus Fraunhofer, Germany

Trust into e-Government services is an economic and social imperative. An important aspect of trust is the way, how service providers respect the privacy of their consumers. As the news are full of messages about data breaches in public and private sector services, we need fundamental approaches that incorporate privacy as a major goal into their design. While the technological foundation to create such solutions is available for a long time, its application to e-Government services remains limited. This track shows positive examples of privacy enhancing technologies build in to e-Government solutions.

A broad and indicative list of topics and themes is listed below that we hope might be included; this is not an exclusive list but rather a guide to some of the relevant issues of the day:

- Anonymous credential systems in e-Government
- Trusted computing (TCG) applications to prevent data leakage
- Usage of non-identifying attribute sets in e-Government processes
- Privacy preserving internet health solutions
- Privacy enhanced data retention solutions
- National ID-cards and their usage in favour of privacy

As well as full academic papers, the following submissions are also welcomed:

Research in Progress: Researchers may submit current projects whilst they are still in progress

Case Study Submissions: Submissions should be written to publishable standards.

Poster Submissions: Welcomed in any of the areas identified in the Call for Papers.

Round Table Proposals: Topical subjects proposed for discussion.

Practitioner Contributions: Contributions, either presentations or demonstrations, from individuals and organisations working in the field. Presentation submissions should follow the abstract submission process. For product demonstrations, please submit a proposal of 200-300 words describing the product you would like to demonstrate and the audience it serves. Proposals should be sent as an email attachment to Sue Nugus not later

For a more comprehensive Mini Track Call for Papers please consult the website at:

<http://academic-conferences.org/eceg/eceg2011/eceg11-minitrack.htm>

than 13 January 2011. Demonstrations themselves are expected to be approximately 15 minutes in length. At least one person must register for the conference to give the presentation

Selected papers will also be considered for publication in the Electronic Journal of e-Government (EJEG-<http://www.ejeg.com>).

Submission details

Abstract details: All submission types require an abstract in the first instance. Abstract should be a minimum of 300 and no more than 500 words including up to five keywords and keyphrases to be received by 25 November 2010. Please read the abstract guidelines section of the website before submitting.

Submission: Online at <http://academic-conferences.org/eceg/eceg2011/eceg11-abstract-submission.htm>
Please ensure that you complete all relevant sections of the form, including the conference track the abstract is intended for, the proposed title for the paper, the full names (first name and surname, not initials) and email addresses of all authors and a postal address and telephone number for at least one contact author. Please indicate clearly if the contact author is not the lead author.

Full paper: Only required when the abstract has been selected and not to be more than 5,000 words including abstract, keywords and references (the Harvard referencing rules need to be followed). Submission date will be no later than 13 January 2011. Papers should be submitted as .doc or .rtf file attachments by email to the Conference Manager, Charlotte Hall at Charlotte.hall@academic-conferences.org

Important information

- The selection panel of the conference committee will consider all abstracts received by the submission deadline to ensure that the proposed paper is relevant to the Conference.
- The authors of abstracts that describe a relevant paper will receive a notification of abstract selection.
- All full papers will be double-blind reviewed by members of the conference committee to ensure an adequate standard, that the proposed subject of their abstract has been followed, that the paper is of a suitable length, the standard of English is adequate and the paper is appropriately referenced.
- For authors whose first language is not English we request that you have your work proof read prior to submission by a native English speaker (or at least a fluent English speaker). Papers can be rejected due to a poor standard of English.
- Papers that are accepted will be published in the conference proceedings providing at least one author registers and presents the work at the Conference (see the registration section of the conference website for more information about registration). Author registration must be completed by 12 June 2008.
- Due to the large number of papers expected for this conference, the committee only allows an author to present one paper. Therefore if multiple papers are accepted for presentation different co-authors need to present each paper.
