Mini Track: e-Assessment

Track Chair: Paul Peachey, University of Glamorgan, Wales

Formal learning requires formal assessment in order to satisfy the needs of a particular award. With more and more institutions engaging in e-learning options then there is a clear requirement for e-learning assessment. The Open University (UK) has been engaged in innovative e-assessment since the 1980s with its innovative 'Computer Marked Assessment' (CMA) initiative. However, the phenomenal growth of the Internet offers the opportunity for further innovative thinking in this field. This mini-track therefore calls for papers that relate to e-assessment in any particular format from computer marked assessment technology to online based assessment processes. How effective is e-assessment in terms of satisfying its commitment to learning objectives? Can e-assessment be made fairer than traditional systems? Can e-assessment reduce tutor workloads without necessarily compromising the quality? Does e-assessment increase (or indeed, decrease) the threat of plagiarism? And so on. This mini-track invites debate and/or case study material from both academics and practitioners.

Research issues as follows are of special interest:

- e-assessment / online assessment
- GradeMark / Turnitin
- e-assessment and disabilities
- e-portfolios / online portfolios
- Computer-Marked Assessment (CMAs)
- Other topics

Submission details:

Abstract details: The Abstract should be a minimum of 300 and no more than 500 words including up to five keywords and keyphrases to be received by 15 April 2010. Please read the abstract guidelines section of the website before submitting.

Submission: Online at <http://academic-conferences.org/ecel/ecel2010/ecel10-abstract-submission.htm> Please ensure that you complete all relevant sections of the form, including the conference track the abstract is intended for, the proposed title for the paper, the full names (first name and surname, not initials) and email addresses of all authors and a postal address and telephone number for at least one contact author. Please indicate clearly if the contact author is not the lead author.

This call for papers and full details about the conference can be found online at:

<http://academic-conferences.org/ecel/ecel2010/ecel10-call-papers.htm>

Full paper: Only required when the abstract has been selected and not to be more than 5,000 words including abstract, keywords and references (the Harvard referencing rules need to be followed). Submission date will be no later than 3 June 2010. Papers should be submitted as .doc or .rtf file attachments by email to the Conference Manager, Julia Hawkins at julia@academic-conferences.org

The selection panel of the conference committee will consider all abstracts received by the submission deadline to ensure that the proposed paper is relevant to the Conference. The authors of abstracts that describe a relevant paper will receive a notification of abstract selection. All full papers will be double-blind reviewed by members of the conference committee to ensure an adequate standard, that the proposed subject of their abstract has been followed, that the paper is of a suitable length, the standard of English is adequate and the paper is appropriately referenced. For authors whose first language is not English we request that you have your work proofread preferably by a native English speaker prior to submission (or at least a fluent English speaker) – papers may be rejected due to a poor standard of English. Papers that are accepted will be published in the conference proceedings providing at least one author registers and presents the work at the Conference (see the registration section of the conference website for more information about registration).

Due to the large number of papers expected for this conference, the committee only allows an author to present one paper. Therefore if multiple papers are accepted for presentation different co-authors need to present each paper. Please direct enquiries to Julia Hawkins at julia@academic-conferences.org

Important dates:

Abstract submission deadline:	15 April 2010
Notification of abstract acceptance:	22 April 2010
Full paper due for review:	3 June 2010
