

ICCWS 2021

16th International Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security

25-26 February 2021, Tennessee, USA

Mini Track on Cybercrime, Cyber Criminology, & Criminal Investigations

Mini Track Chair: Dr. Gregory Laidlaw, CISSP, C|EH, University of Detroit Mercy, USA

The Internet is one of the fastest growing security threats in the world. Historically, criminologists have focused on traditional forms of crime however, with the Internet there are new types of deviancy and crimes that have global impacts. The need for innovative approaches to address the significant cyber threats facing the global community must go beyond traditional thinking of crime and pursue a deeper understanding of how our adversaries engage in crime to better defend our resources against attacks. This mini track will focus on cybersecurity practices that involve cybercrime, cyber criminology, and cyber investigations with the intent of identifying suspects as well as their methods and motivations.

Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Cyber crime
- Threat analysis
- Cyber-kill chain
- Digital forensic criminal investigations
- Network hardening
- Criminology

Dr. Greg Laidlaw, DMIT, CISSP, C|EH, serves as the Department Chair and Lecturer in the Cybersecurity & Information Systems Department at the University of Detroit Mercy. Greg's research focuses on secure systems, secure analytics, and machine learning. Prior to transitioning into full-time academia in 2011, Greg developed an extensive range of technical and managerial experience from 25 years of IT consulting in small enterprise and local government organizations. His doctoral dissertation involved adapting agile methodologies to design and expediting a data integration project for a local Sheriff's Department.

Submission Details

In the first instance a 300-350 word abstract is required, to be received by the 5th August 2020.

Please read the guidelines at <http://www.academic-conferences.org/policies/abstract-guidelines-for-papers/>

Submissions must be made using the online submission form at

<http://www.academic-conferences.org/conferences/iccws/iccws-abstract-submission/>

If you have any questions about this track please email: laidlags@udmercy.edu

See more about ICCWS 2021 at <http://www.academic-conferences.org/conferences/iccws>